Disappearing Sports?

How would you like to have earned a spot on a varsity sport and then be asked to step down to a club status?

Dr. Lou Marciani has been asking all 18 varsity sports participants this question to see their reactions. Why? Because of the big problem with the athletic budget not having enough money to effectively keep all 18 varsity sports running. He has to look at each sport at a 0 base budget and see exactly how much money will be needed to run the sport. From there the decision goes to be approved by the Athletic Advisory Committee and finally being approved by Joe Gilbert, Vice-President of Administration. Marciani said that he wants to maximize participation at intercollegiate, club and intramural levels. Well, then tell me why he wants some varsity sports to move to a club level? Isn't that degrading? I mean once you've earned something why should it be taken away? Wouldn't you think that there would be more interest for participation in sports if the sport was at a varsity level rather than having a club type status? Really, think about it, would you want to be on the Salisbury State College Swim Team or in the swim club? Another point I would like to make is, how can anyone say that one sport is more important than another. Football is just as important as Track/Cross Country, as well as Soccer is just as important as Swimming/Diving. All athletes I'm sure will agree that their sport is very important to them, just as another sport is to another athlete. Would you be willing to give up what you've earned and step down to club status? How can you build on something already achieved if what you've earned is going to be taken away. In my opinion I believe that all 18 varsity sports are equally important to each individual who has earned a spot on that team and therefore, nothing should be taken away. I'm sure the athletic budget can be stretched far enough to enable all 18 varsity sports to keep on building.

Saying "Thanks"

Dear Readers:

I want you to do something for me over Spring Break. For a lot of us, saying "thank you" is not always easy, I being one of these people. This request is my way of saying it.

Over the break, think of all the people who have ever done anything for you. Your High School teachers are a good place to start, because if it weren't for them, you WOULD NOT be here today. They always like hearing from former students, even those who gave them hell in the years past. They need to hear "thank you", and to know that what they're doing is appreciated. Your professors and instructors are next. They are helping you prepare for the future, so it would seem they deserve more but a "thanks" would be appreciated, I'm sure.

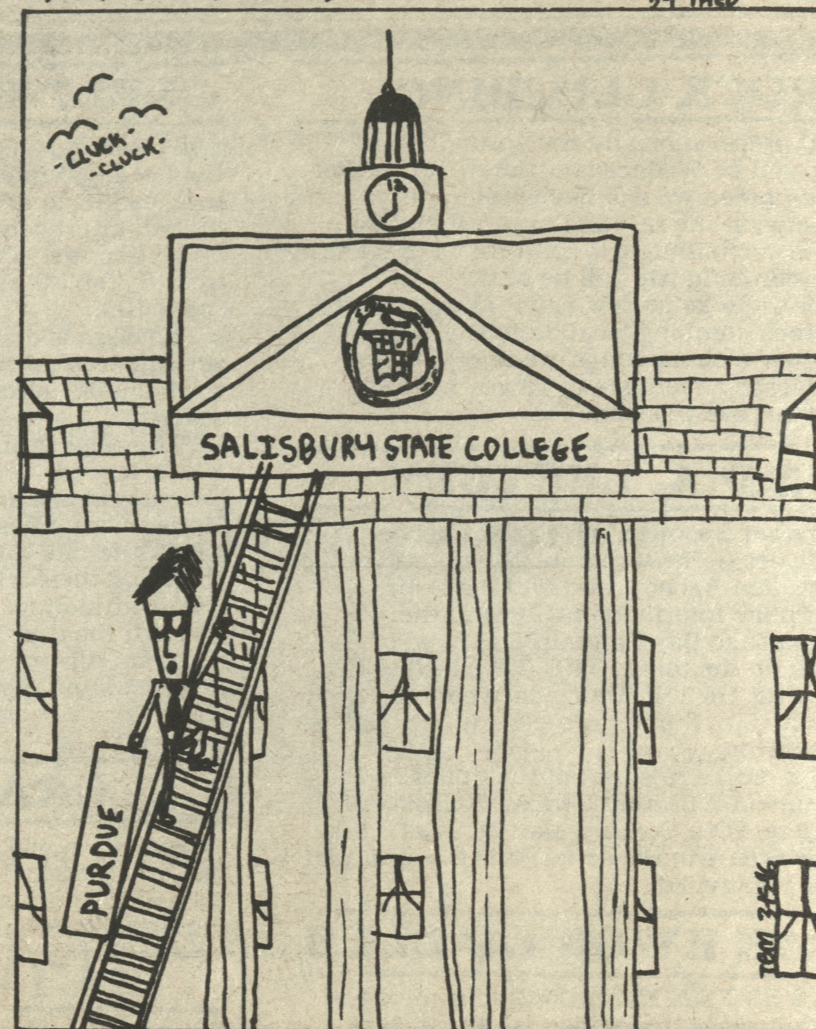

Community people, such as Boy Scout Leaders and Preachers, deserve a happy "Thank You." After all, they helped to make you what you are today. There are numerous others that have given you a helping hand in the past, so think of them please.

Next, think of all the people who ever cared about you and all the people you have ever cared for. Your friends could use a "Thank You", because if you're like me, they deserve it. Any acquaintance of yours probably wouldn't mind hearing you say "Thanks" for brightening up your day, so say it. Especially say "Thanks" to whoever you pour your problems on, because they probably have their fair share already. Next comes your boyfriend. They are the most important thing to you, so say "Thanks" just for being who they are. And please, if you argue, stop and think what you're doing if you don't watch out, you may lose this person. Even if you see an old boyfriend or girlfriend say "Thanks" to them, because they played an important role in your finally growing up.

If there is anyone else who cares for you say "Thanks" to them. If no one cared at all about you, you would be miserable.

Truck: "The athletic department is doing the best they can with what they have, but the funds are lacking."

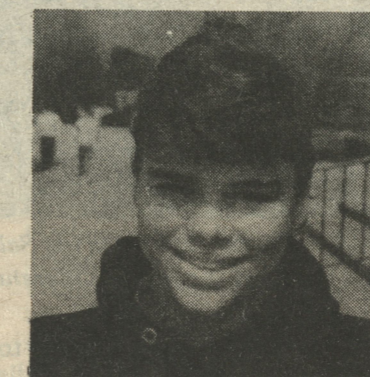

Gene Natoli: "They must be doing a good job. They produce winners in every sport."

Tray Webb: "Before I graduate I'd like to see a national championship and more fan support."

What are your expectations of the athletic department?

Terrie Messenger: "The athletic program is getting much more respect and becoming much more competitive in division 3"

Carrie Vaszko: "I think that the less supported teams such as baseball, bowling, and all womens sports should be given more credit."

Last and certainly not least, are your parents. What can be said? Basically, if it wasn't for them, you wouldn't be here, literally. Chances are, they have always tried to give you all they can, and often end up giving more. They have raised you from the start and formed you more or less in their image, and one day you will realize that you are just like them.

Often, parents have to make tremendous sacrifices to send children to college. Say "Thanks" even if your parents payed for college and bought you the world with their pocket change. In both cases, they make more sacrifices than you can ever imagine throughout their lives for you. Tell them "Thank You"; they need to know that their kid is okay.

The world is full of those who give, and full of those who care, without whom we couldn't live, or else have problems to great to bear.

Try to find all of these people, no matter where they live, in homes, schools, towns, or under steeple, tell them you appreciate what they give.

Thank You,
Wayne Ackerson

Perdue School Of Management

By Janet Salomone

A contribution of more than $2 million to establish a school of business has been announced by Franklin P. Perdue, Chairman of the board of Perdue Farms Incorporated, and Dr. Thomas Bellavance. At a press conference held Friday, February 28 on campus. The $2.4 million will be dispersed over a 2 year period. You might ask yourself just how was that figure arrived at? Dr. Thomas Bellavance and Mr. Perdue had a long study of the situation and came to a final endowment of $3.5 million, with the major portion of $2.4 donated by Mr. Perdue. The difference in endowment is expected to be reached in 4-5 years with a possibility to even total $5 million dollars.

Exactly where does the $2.4 million go? The $2.4 million will be used for student scholarships, recruitment efforts, faculty long-term research projects, library holdings, national known figure, and fielding seminars. Dr. Bellavance wants Salisbury State College to be known as "The most prestigious business school in the East coast."

According to Dr. Bellavance the new school will be called the Perdue School of Management and will offer programs leading to undergraduate and graduate business degrees. It will be housed in the East wing of Holloway Hall on the first floor. There will be an increase in staff as to reduce the teachers work loads so that they will be able to do long-term research projects.

A major scholarship program will be offered to incoming classes. It will be a 4-year scholarship and will be offered to highly motivated students with good academic credentials. Dr. Bellavance said that "34 scholarships will be offered in the 1st year, 69 in the 2nd year, 75 in the 3rd year, 78 the 4th year, 82 in the 5th year."

Mr. Perdue spoke about his commitment to the Eastern shore, and his views on business education. He states "I am an ardent believer in the need for quality business education.

Franklin P. Perdue addresses the Salisbury State College Administration and the media at the press conference.

Today's corporate world is too complex and competitive for managers to learn their skills the way I did — on the job. I therefore am pleased to have the opportunity to work with Salisbury State in establishing this new school of business that will teach and train our business leaders of tomorrow." Dr. Bellavance said "He hopes other people will see fit to invest in the school as well."

The New College Center

An Update downhill

Construction is expected to begin today on a long anticipated permanent College Center for Salisbury State College, following approval on Wednesday, March 5, by the Maryland Board of Public Works.

The new center replaces a one-story metal building near the Ruth Powell Dining Hall which has served as a temporary College Center since the 1970s.

"I am pleased that the Board of Public Works has supported our request for the addition of a permanent College Center for our campus," Dr. Thomas E. Bellavance, president of Salisbury State College, said. "The new facility will add to the quality of life here at Salisbury State College by enhancing the social, cultural and academic opportunities."

Costing some $9 million, the center will be paid for by fees collected from students attending the College. State funds are not involved.

Four years in planning, the new building is expected to open in the fall, 1987. It will contain commuter and conversation lounges, a snack bar, bookstore, campus post office, counseling and placement center, offices for the center-director and dean of students, game room and exhibition space, multipurpose, meeting and board rooms, student government offices, a student radio station and student newspaper offices.

Located in a wooded area behind Devilbiss Science Hall, the new structure is a two-story multileveled brick building with high windows and some architectural features reminiscent of Holloway Hall (the college's original and most beautiful building). The new Center will anchor the southern end of the campus, as Holloway Hall does the north, Joseph Gilbert, vice president of Administration, said.

The current College Center, initially built as a temporary structure, will either be relocated for another purpose or used only temporarily in its current location, Gilbert added.

Student Senate Meeting

By Janet Salomone

Are these minutes or is this a form of reporting borrowed from G. H. H.?

Calendar Committee

The calendar committee is in the process of cutting Spring Break 1988 from a week to a couple of days. Some of the ideas were to start school before Labor Day, or adding more minutes to classtime. This would enable us to have a fall break consisting of 7 weeks school one week off, 7 weeks school, one week off. Instead of having 11 straight weeks until Thanksgiving with a 3 day break. But, the big question is How many people will this effect? Do you work in Ocean City up until Labor Day?

Fence

There was a proposal to putting an opening in the fence on campus near Benedicts to enable people to walk through that way instead of walking all the way around. Dick Yobst - from maintenance said "No" It's not possible because of economics and legal reasons. Why? "there is no sidewalk and no lighting fixtures." But, the real reason was "your not supposed to walk there." We aren't finished pursuing it though.

Library

Do the Xerox machines in the library bother you? Well we've proposed to Mr. Thrash to put the machines in a private room as to not disturb the studious students. His answer was "there is no space to hold two Xerox machines." He said there has to be one upstairs because of the periodicals, so students don't have to carry books up and down the stairs. He also said the machines have to be visible because they hold money. This leaves two possibilities: one is to have them in a typing room-both side by side, or keep one upstairs and one down. What should be done? Let us know.

The next Student Senate Meeting is April 8th, in Caruthers room 122 at 3:30 p.m.

NEIFC Wins Award

New Admission Requirements downhill needs straightening

By Dept. of Education

The Board of Trustees of Maryland State Colleges and Universities recently issued a mandate for state colleges to upgrade standards for admissions to Teacher Education programs. In response to this mandate and as part of a continuing effort of program improvement, the Education department has adopted new guidelines for admission to the professional teacher education program and to student teaching.

All students who entered Salisbury State College under the 1985-1986 catalog or subsequent catalogs are required to meet the new standards. The new requirements include a written application, a "C" or better in specific courses, satisfactory completion of all competency tests, and an overall grade point average of 2.5.

Students following a catalog prior to 1985-1986 may continue to follow the criteria defined in the catalog under which they entered the college.

All students are urged to meet with the Education Department advisors to go over admission requirements and to complete necessary application material. The requirements for students under new and old guidelines will be strictly adhered to, so advisement is necessary to prevent problems.

The Northeast Interfraternity Conference (NEIFC) has selected the Interfraternity Council at Salisbury State College as the 1985-1986 winner of its Alcohol Awareness Award.

The NEIFC, a coordinating body of interfraternity councils at more than 60 colleges and universities throughout the Northeastern United States and Eastern Canada, made the presentation to Jennifer Hendricks, president of the Salisbury State College Interfraternity Council, before over 700 delegates attending its annual conference here on March 1.

The Alcohol Awareness Award cited the SSC Interfraternity Council for "its efforts in effectively encouraging responsible drinking behavior within the fraternity/Greek/university community."

Appropriations Board Reminder

All clubs and organizations presently being funded by the Appropriations Board and those who want to be funded for the 86-87 F.Y. (except sports clubs), must have your budgets completed and handed in by April 4th. All clubs and organizations who did not attend the February 25th workshop need to pick up a budget at the Appropriations Board office, room 107A Tawes Hall on any of the Board members office hours.

"a lasting record of the state's artistic achievements"

An exhibition which, in the words of Governor Harry Hughes, has made "a lasting contribution to the literature of Maryland's...architectural heritage," will be in the Salisbury State College Gallery from March 1 through March 20. Entitled 350 Years of Architecture in Maryland, the exhibition documents historically important buildings from every county in Maryland. It was curated by Mary A. Dean of Catholic University in Washington D.C.; and David P. Fogle and John W. Hill, both of the School of Architecture of the University of Maryland.

According to Ursula Ehrhardt, Gallery Director, the exhibition not only feature important buildings, but also documents the increasing variety of building types as society becomes more complex, urban and industrialized. "Architectural history can thus be seen as a branch of cultural and social history," Ehrhardt said.

The exhibition was originally part of a larger show which also included painting, sculpture and decorative arts, and was organized in 1984 by the Art Gallery at the University of Maryland, College Park, to commemorate the 350th anniversary of the founding of the State of Maryland. Its award-winning catalogue, entitled 350 Years of Art and Architecture in Maryland, which Governor Hughes called "a lasting record of the State's artistic achievements," will be available for sale through the College Gallery.

The exhibition and accompanying catalogue were supported by the Maryland Heritage Council, the Maryland Humanities Council and the National Endowment for the Arts. Its showing at the College is made possible, in part, by grants from the Maryland State Arts Council and the Salisbury/Wicomico Arts Council.

The exhibition will be on display through March 20. The College Gallery, located on the second floor of Blackwell Library, is open Monday through Thursday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. and Wednesday evening from 7 to 10 p.m. Regularly scheduled gallery talks on the exhibition, given by Nancy Turner, the Gallery's education coordinator, take place each Wednesday at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. Arrangements for group tours of the exhibition may be made by calling the College Gallery at 543-6271.

Application forms will be distributed, and responsibilities and procedures will be discussed. Prior to attending one of the meetings students should make sure to check their eligibility for student teaching with their advisor.

Meeting Dates:

Tuesday, April 1, 1986 and Wednesday, April 2, 1986 3:30 p.m. - Caruthers 162 Elementary Methods classes dates to be arranged

Applications will not be accepted at any other time, so students should make sure to attend. Questions about the application process should be directed to Mr. Alvah Constantine, Director of Field Experiences, CH-150.

throughout the evening was Karl Andrews on the piano.

Coming April 11th, Las Vegas Nite, enjoy a casino atmosphere while you play your chances against the house.

Spring Break '86

By Ron Sotak

With the temperatures climbing up into the low 70's twice since March 1, the students here at Salisbury State College have been struck with Spring Break Fever. Yes, the chronic disease that strikes all college students is alive and kicking. Some students are looking forward to home: real food, sleep, and friends. For others, Spring Break '86 will be one giant roadtrip. This year's hotspots are the usual beaches: Myrtle Beach, Daytona Beach, Ft. Lauderdale, as well as a new hotspot New Orleans, where the Mardi Gras festival is in full swing. For one lucky individual mom and dad have sprung for a Spring Break in the Bahamas. Why do people choose to go to these places? Well here's some good reasons.

Don Cherry explains his reasons for going home as "I just don't have the money, but I don't tan that well anyways!"

Scott Reeling, an Ocean City local "is going to sleep and fix up the Ghost, his car."

Troy Hammond, who is headed for Myrtle Beach, explains, "It's close, the women are there and I'm staying for free!"

His partner in crime, Brett Imirie has stated, "The beer will fall and so will I!"

I will be Daytona and Ft. Lauderdale bound. Sleeping on the beach in a truck at Daytona and having a blast at "The Button."

Chris Fimmano will be Ft. Lauderdale bound, "sleeping in tents with the rest of the fellows and whatever women will join them!"

Many people who are beach bound state similar reasons for going there but there are some differences wherever you go.

Myrtle Beach, the newest place that most SSC students are going to, is a little more mellow than Ft. Lauderdale. It is a little less expensive, closer, and the weather is still perfect for this time of year.

People who go to Daytona Beach will have an opportunity to drive up and sleep in the beach. This is heaven for people who have 4-wheel drive vehicles. Daytona has frequently been a stop for people who are "Lauderdale Bound."

Ft. Lauderdale, the most popular of the beaches, offers a tradition of parties and people from all over. "The Button", the bar to hit, is a great place to meet people, party or get weird! My pick for a trip during Spring Break '86 would be New Orleans. The jazz and liquor will be flowing up and down Bourbon St. New Orleans offers a special "Southern Comfort" that the beaches lack.

If you are traveling somewhere, here are a few tips for travel:

1. Bring travelers checks, they are easily cashed and most companies, i.e. American Express offer refunds if lost or stolen.
2. Bring a variety of clothes, warm and cold weather, temperatures can still drop into the 40's down south.
3. Beach supplies - blanket, towel, sunglasses, bathing suit, fluffy-duck water wings, suntan lotion.
4. Watch for speed traps when traveling by car. A radar detector is a good investment for this.
5. Don't get arrested - my father refuses to bail me out.
6. Have Fun!!

"The Emerald Forest"

The SSC Outdoor Club and the Faculty Cultural Events Committee will present a special screening of the critically acclaimed film "THE EMERALD FOREST" on Wednesday, April 9 at 7 p.m. in Devilbiss Science Hall Auditorium.

The program is part of the year long series examining the topic: "POLLUTION OF THE BAY: 20th CENTURY MAN ON TRIAL" THE EMERALD FOREST" is an exciting adventure that probes the complex relationship between humanity, the forces of nature and the power of mysticism.

Director John Boorman explores the lasting bonds of human love in this compelling tale of one father's desperate search for his only son. Based on a true story, "THE EMERALD FOREST" stars Powers Boothe as an American engineer who has come to Brazil to build a dam which will develop the area's resources - but have a shattering effect on its ecology. When his six year old son is kidnapped by a primitive Indian tribe, Boothe begins a harrowing odyssey that takes him deep into the heart of the rain-soaked Amazon jungles.

The New Rhythm and Blues Quartet (NRBQ) will play in Holloway Hall Auditorium at Salisbury State College on Thursday, March 20, at 8:30 p.m., with the group Great Train Robbery opening.

NRBQ has recorded nine albums on the Warner and Red Rooster labels. The band is hard to categorize since it plays a variety of styles equally well, from straight out rock to jazz and pop, then back through rockabilly, swing and bop.

NRBQ has been described as funny, tight but not slick, loose but rarely sloppy, ridiculous and sublime. It has an intensely loyal following across the U.S. Many of its songs have been covered by other artists such as "Me and the Boys" and "This Ole House".

Band members are Tom Arbolino as drummer, Joey Spampinato on bass, Al Anderson guitar, and Terry Adams as keyboardist/bandleader.

Tickets are $3 for SSC students, faculty and staff and $5 for the general public. Tickets are on sale at the College Center information desk and at the door. Call 543-6397 for further information.

Trailways

Trailways Lines, Inc. has reduced round-trip fare for college students during the "spring break" period. Any college student who presents a valid college identification card will be eligible for the round-trip discount fare.

Between now and May 4th the round-trip fare from Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland and Washington, D.C. to anywhere Trailways goes will be a low $118.00. The only restriction is that the return portion of the ticket must be used within 15 days of the purchase date.

"We recognize the fact that college students represent a large portion of our late winter and early spring travelers," stated Tom Kissell, Director of Marketing for Trailways. "We want to get as many of them as possible to consider Trailways for their spring break travel."

Good Things From Gull Baseball '86

By Wayne Ackerson

Good things can be expected from this year's Sea Gull Baseball team. Deane Deshon, now in his 23rd year as head coach, led his pledges to a 26-10-2 record last year, and expects an improvement this season.

"As a team, we're balanced. Our pitching should be better than last year, and we'll still be capable of scoring runs," commented Deshon, who feels the team strengths are speed and defense. Speed, to Deshon, is a "subtle advantage. You can steal and also have players score often from 2nd on a single." This speed also helps on defense, where overall quickness is a definite plus. On the flip side, Deshon cites his relatively untried pitching staff as the only worry close to major. The pitching staff has improved over last year, however, and may not be any cause for concern.

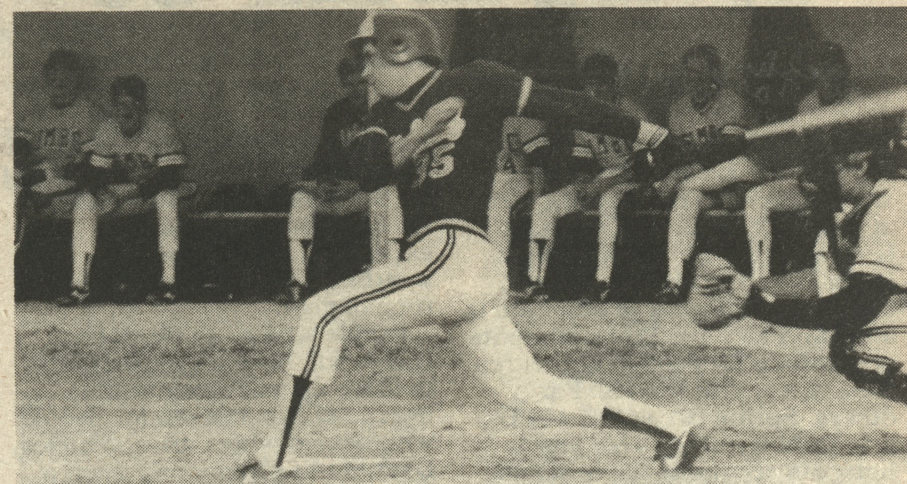

While nothing is still concrete, some of the positions are fairly well filled. First base will be manned by Bruce Matthews, who has been impressive in early workouts. Second base will be handled by last year's DH, Devin Warwick, who batted .374. Roaming around at short will be Mike Imbasciani, and rounding out the infield will be Co-captain Rob Lippy at 3rd. Catching will be Co-captain Steve Greenwood, with young Rob Hartwell possibly seeing considerable action as well.

The outfield will consist of Ricky Collett in right, Probably George Oursler in center, and either Sam Marge or Allen Cook in left, depending on opponents pitching. Some other outfielders, Bret Bucci, and Cris McDonald will see action, also depending on the opponents pitching. Bucci batted .322 last year as a freshman.

A relatively strong, young bench will hold Tim Walsh (IF), Sean Hull (C), Ryan Owens (OF), Mike Lettieri (C), and Scott Sweitzer (IF). From this group will come ample back-up help, pinch hitters and possibly this year's DH, which will also depend on pitching.

The Gulls pitching staff is a young one, and contains only 4 or 5 upperclassmen. There is potential and talent in this group, however. Two returnees, Craig Shreeves and C.R. Murphy combined for 12 wins last year, while Ted Peters is an imposing presence on the mound, being 6'3" and 220 lbs. Other hopefuls include Erich Hahn, Cris Manouse, Leo Kelm, Lance Fisher, Kevin Smith and Dan Holland. Of these, only Fisher and Hahn are not freshmen.

Deshton expects to use a lot of pitchers this year, due to the number of doubleheaders and the higher number of total games (43). This season will not be easy either, for Deshon holds that there are not any weak teams in the schedule that contains Frostburg, Glassboro State, and UMBC.

Their next home games are Tuesday, April 1st at 3:00pm and Friday, April 4th at 3:00pm.

Women's Softball Could Go Far

Courtesy of Sports Info

Coming off an 18-10 season in which the team was ranked 15th in the nation, the Salisbury State women's softball team has the talent and experience in 1986 to go even further.

Head coach Dawn McCrumb, entering her second year at the helm, has eight players returning from last year's squad along with some talented freshman.

The number one pitcher, Dawn Taylor won 15 games last season and posted a 1.02 earned run average in the process. Also, the team's number two pitcher from last year, Julie Taylor returns after winning three games. Terri Sharpless is expected to move right into the Gull line-up after a very successful high school career as a pitcher.

Jodi Yinglin is returning behind the plate after catching 23 games last season.

In the infield, 1985 MVP Terri Timmons returns at third base after hitting a team high .341. Mary Beth Wulff is slated at second base and will add a solid glove and a good bat to the Gulls. Julie Taylor and Lisa Mears will battle for the first base position while newcomer Cathy Bryan should fill the vacancy at shortstop.

Elaine Allnutt last year's most improved player, is expected to continue her strong play in centerfield this season. Robin Shilkret hit .258 last season and is a strong candidate for one of the outfield spots. Lisa Merrick brings a strong bat to the Gulls and will see a lot of action. Tammy McCabe and Bridgett Hurt are both excellent players and will be looked for to provide depth in the outfield.

Rounding out the team are Sharon Klein, Tracy Short, Pamela Simon and Karen Sipple. All four players have outstanding talent and should make fine contributions to the Sea Gull softball team this season.

SSC has seven home doubleheaders scheduled throughout the season which starts on March 14 when the Gulls host Eastern Connecticut State in a twinbill at 12 noon on the Salisbury campus. Also included on the home slats are Vermont, Army, Kings, Trenton State, Methodist and Stockton State and the Salisbury State Invitational Tournament scheduled for March 28-29.

The 1986 SSC softball team has a wealth of talent and experience and could go far this season.
